golfer and at one time he served as president of the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

local hospital, where he had been a patient the past week.

Survivors are the widow, Beatrice; three daughters, Mrs. Edward (Cleo) Sanders, Mrs. Charles (Molly) Murray and Mrs. William (Bernice) Jones, all of Los Angeles; his mother, Mrs. Dora LaMar of Chicago; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

His physician said death followed a heart attack. The body is at the T. F. O'Connor Co. Funeral Home.

A resident of Great Falls about 46 years, LaMar was born June 5, 1902, in Chicago. He had operated the Ozark Club since 1920 and for 22 years worked as a waiter for the Great Northern Railway Co.

From 1921-1926, at a time when the names of Bross, Popovich, Rossberg and Simonich were standouts in local boxing circles, LaMar also made a name for himself fighting as Kid Leo. A 130-pounder, he won his first bout here fighting "One Round" Smith, who outweighed him 40 pounds. In recent years, he was an avid
